PUPPY

PUPPY COMPANION (UP TO 12 MONTHS)

Essential development takes place during puppyhood, including brain, eye, organs, immune system and skeletal development. This is not only affected by the puppy's environment, but also by the quality of the diet. Puppies need to be provided with a nutrient-rich diet that can meet the needs of their growth and development. By maturity, most youngsters will have increased their birth weight by 40 to 50 times! Therefore, the higher levels of good protein and a variety of nutrients including correct usage of supplement provide the nutritional "building blocks" needed for this lifespan.

The essential fatty acid DHA and EPA of omega 3 is one of the vital nutrient for puppy development including:

BRAIN AND NERVOUS SYSTEM
SKELETAL STRUCTURE

RETINA AND VISUAL CORTEX
LEARNING ABILITY

SKIN AND COAT
IMMUNE SYSTEM

ADULT

ADULT COMPANION (YEAR 1-6)

At this stage in life, protecting against possible health complications is a positive action to take. Small changes to diet and lifestyle may help to prevent the onset of diseases such as cardiovascular disease, diabetes, cancer and some degenerative illnesses. Our companion are omnivores, meaning that they can eat vegetables, grains, fruits as well as meat. As their diets may not be nutritionally complete, variety is as important to them as to us. Adding essential supplement to their food is of great importance too.

Long-chain omega 3s such as EPA and DHA are some nutrients indicated in reducing the risk of the following conditions.

Cardiovascular diseases. Inflammatory diseases of joints, kidney, gut and skin include conditions such as rheumatoid arthritis, psoriasis and inflammatory bowel disorders. Decrease levels of triglycerides and cholesterol in the blood. Haircoats which are dull, brittle, and dry. Allergies and autoimmune conditions occur because the immune system over-reacts. Depression.

SENIOR

SENIOR COMPANION (YEARS 7+)

All companion age differently. The degeneration of cells and organs are part of the natural ageing process, but by taking careful steps you can help to minimise the effects.

The consumption of oil-rich fish (and the long-chain omega 3 essential fatty acids EPA and DHA) is one of the ways that can help to minimise the risks of the following conditions.

Cardiovascular disease, Age-related deterioration of eyesight Mental deterioration, Inflammatory conditions of joints, kidney, gut and skin include conditions such as rheumatoid arthritis, psoriasis and inflammatory bowel disorders. Slow the development and metastasis of certain cancers

LifeStages

Holistic Nutrition made simple

ANS LifeStages is a formula created to help dog owners dispense proper amounts of nutritional supplement to their dogs, taking into consideration factors such as age, weight and body size. Now, dog owners can keep their dogs healthy with just a simple twist.

The ANS LifeStages packs are carefully balanced to fulfill the needs of companion dogs at various stages of their life. From working closely with pets' owners, us folks at ANS have accumulated useful information in determining the needs of companion dogs at each life stage and subsequently have formulated different combinations that will most efficiently help a companion live a healthy and happy life

LifeStages™

This formula is created to help companion owners dispense proper amounts of nutritional supplement to their companions, taking into consideration factors such as age, weight, and body size.

Now, dog owners can keep their companion healthy with just a simple twist.

VITAMINS. MINERALS. HERBS The Natural Holistic Approach

At ANS we believe that this holistic approach is best, combining herbs with the relevant vitamins and minerals to support your companion's health from within. We believe in nature and using small quantities of safe herbs that work together to produce a balanced response, without the detrimental side-effects which may result from bigger dosages of herbs or from drugs. Our products have been formulated by experienced canine nutritionists and based on decades of research relating to Chinese and western herbal practices.

OPTIMAL ABSORPTION Breakthrough Formula

ANS extensive breakthrough researched Optimal Absorption formula addresses the issues of 'bioavailability' of nutrients to the companion. Certain forms of vitamins, minerals and herbs for example, are poorly absorbed by canine and feline due to their unique digestive tracts. ANS Optimal Absorption formula multiply the effectiveness of the phytonutrients and the other nutrient found in our supplements, thereby giving the body far greater nutritional help from the same capsules and pills. We only set 'optimum' standards to our formula, and do not set only 'minimums' and 'maximums'

OUR CAPSULE Preserving Freshness & Potency

ANS' unique fish-shaped capsule was born when we saw the need to lock the individual freshness of the ingredients in capsule form so as to maintain its potency. Through encapsulation, the potency is further protected against light, air and heat as compared to having them in bulk pump bottles. The unique shape also allows for easy snipping or twisting off (at the tail) without leaving a mess, as in the case of oval or round capsules.

30% OMEGA 3 Essential Fatty Acid

is from the family of 'good' fats - polyunsaturated fatty acids that are not only beneficial for health but are essential in your companion's diet. Most importantly, Omega 3 cannot be produced by the body itself. Therefore, they must be taken up from foods or dietary supplements that are rich in Omega 3.

HUMAN PHARMACEUTICAL GRADE

Our beloved companion deserve the same quality as us. For this reason it is important to use only Human Pharmaceutical Grade ingredients. It is the quality of the raw materials used that determines the overall quality of the final product. Furthermore, our products are free of wheat, yeast, gluten, corn, sugar starch, preservatives or hydrogenated oils. Our products do not contain any unnecessary filling agents, sugars, preservatives, artificial colours, wheat, corn or chemicals.
